

Parsnip

Age: ???

Gender: ???

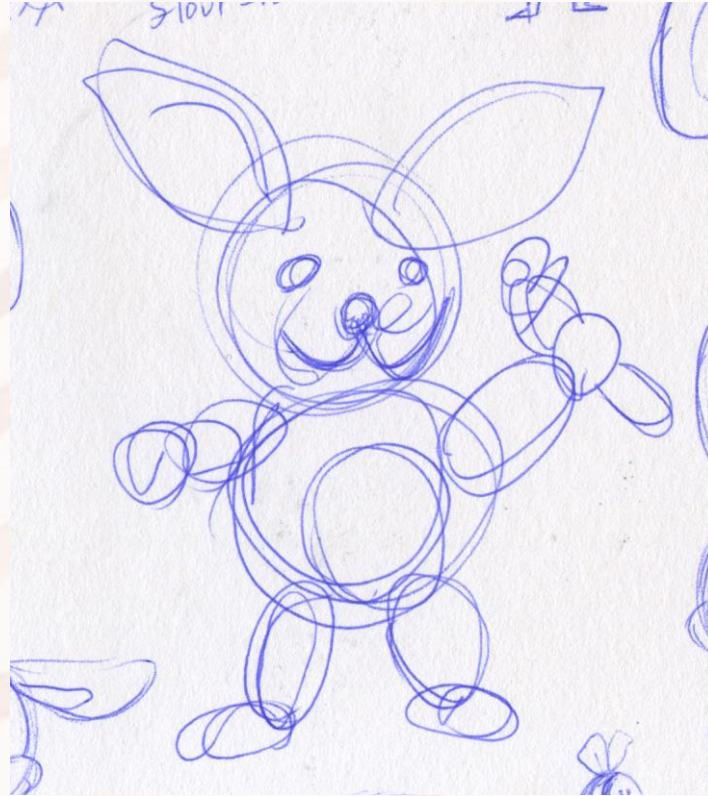

Job: ???

Parsnip is a bubbly and excitable rabbit.

No one really likes him., but he probably deserves that.

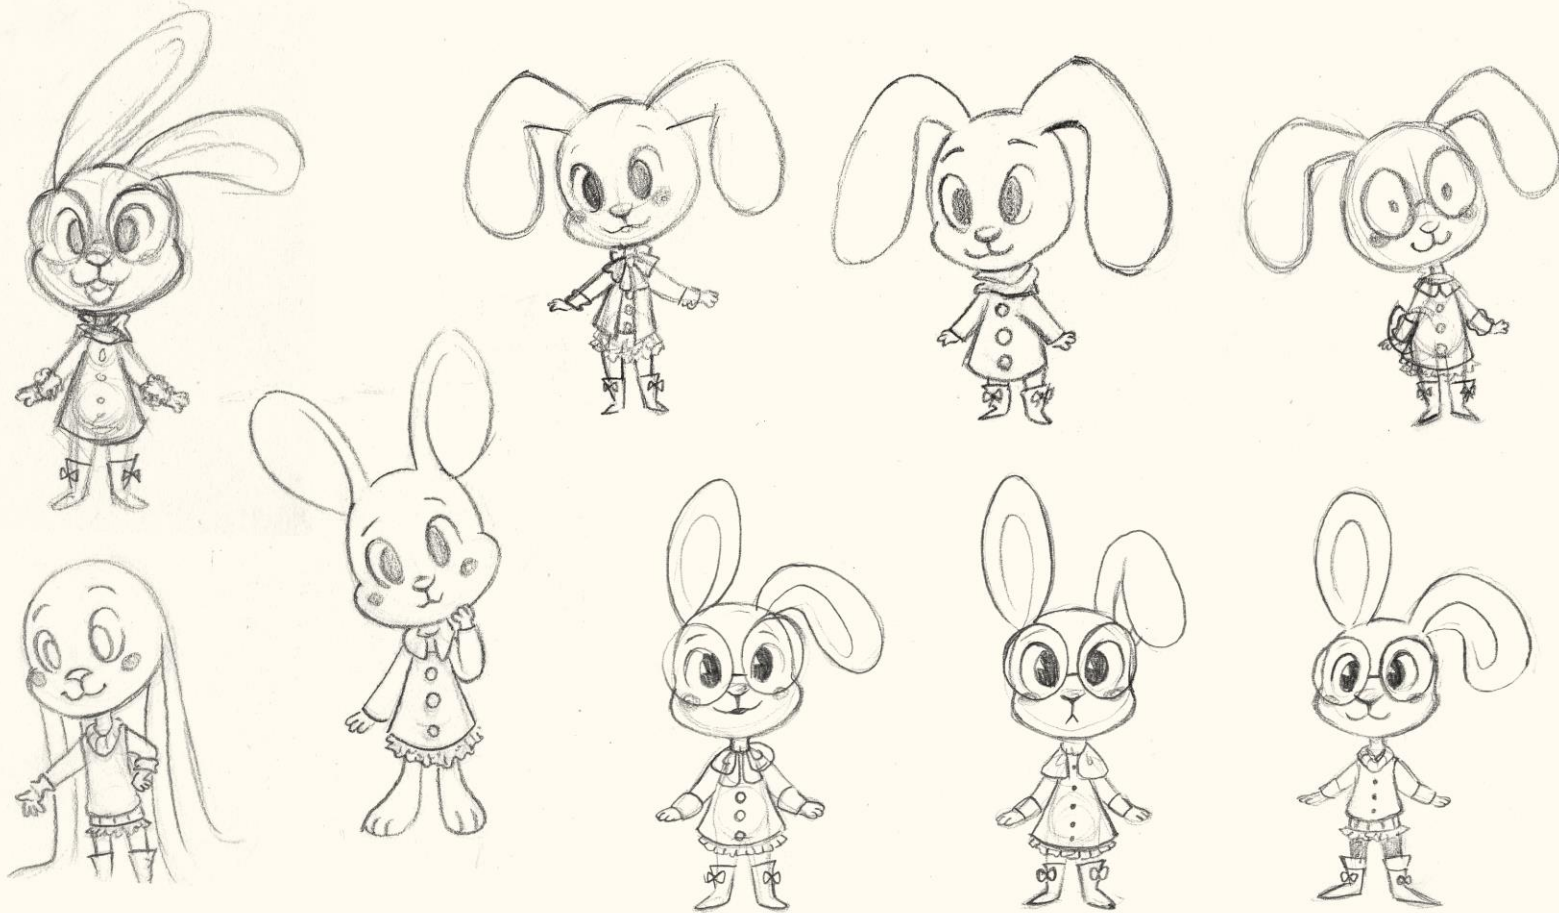

Parvsnip Concept art

Originally we wanted a shy rabbit, who's very friendly and naïve. That soon turned into an annoying rabbit who's too friendly and naïve. — Mez I hate Parvsnip — Poppy

LeRose

Age: 25

Gender: Female

Job: Art Learning Assistant

LeRose is rarely a happy lady, less so after her new neighbour has arrived.

She spends most her time trying to teach 4 year olds art theory, and the rest of her time drinking after failing to do so. She is also dangerously bisexual.

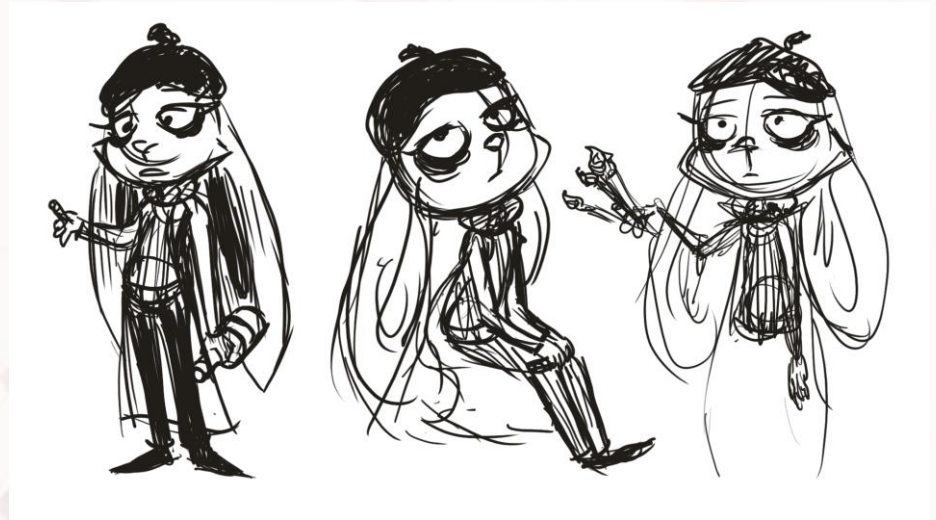

LeRose Concept art

LeRose was supposed to be a contrast to Parsnip. She is a Dwarf Hotot rabbit so looks constantly tired. From the initial designs she always pretended to smoke, how pretentious. - Poppy

The Magnificent Magpie

Age: ???

Gender: Bird

Job: Thief / Fake ruler

The Magnificent Magpie is a horrible bird, with a surprising eye for finding premonitions.

Unfortunately, being disliked by all except Parsnip, these are rarely heeded.

The Magnificent Magpie Concept art

The Magnificent Magpie was originally going to be a gypsy fortune teller, but as the game evolved they became a horrible faux ruler character. - Poppy

Bell

Age: 24

Gender: Female

Job: Milk Woman

Bell is the local slacker milk woman.
She hates her job, but loves life never the less.

She is very close friends with LeRose,
and even tolerates Parsnip, to an extent.

Bell Concept art

Bell was intended to be the one person (other than the Creepy Neighbour) who is nice to Parsnip, since everyone else hates him.. Her design is supposed to make her seem friendly. - Poppy

Squirrel Girl

Age: 9

Gender: Female

Job: Child

Squirrel Girl lives with her family in Acorn Cottage. Sadly, by the time Parsnip is making his cake, her parents are already dead, sacrifices to The King in Yellow.

It's up to Parsnip to save her from the same fate, whether he realises it or not.

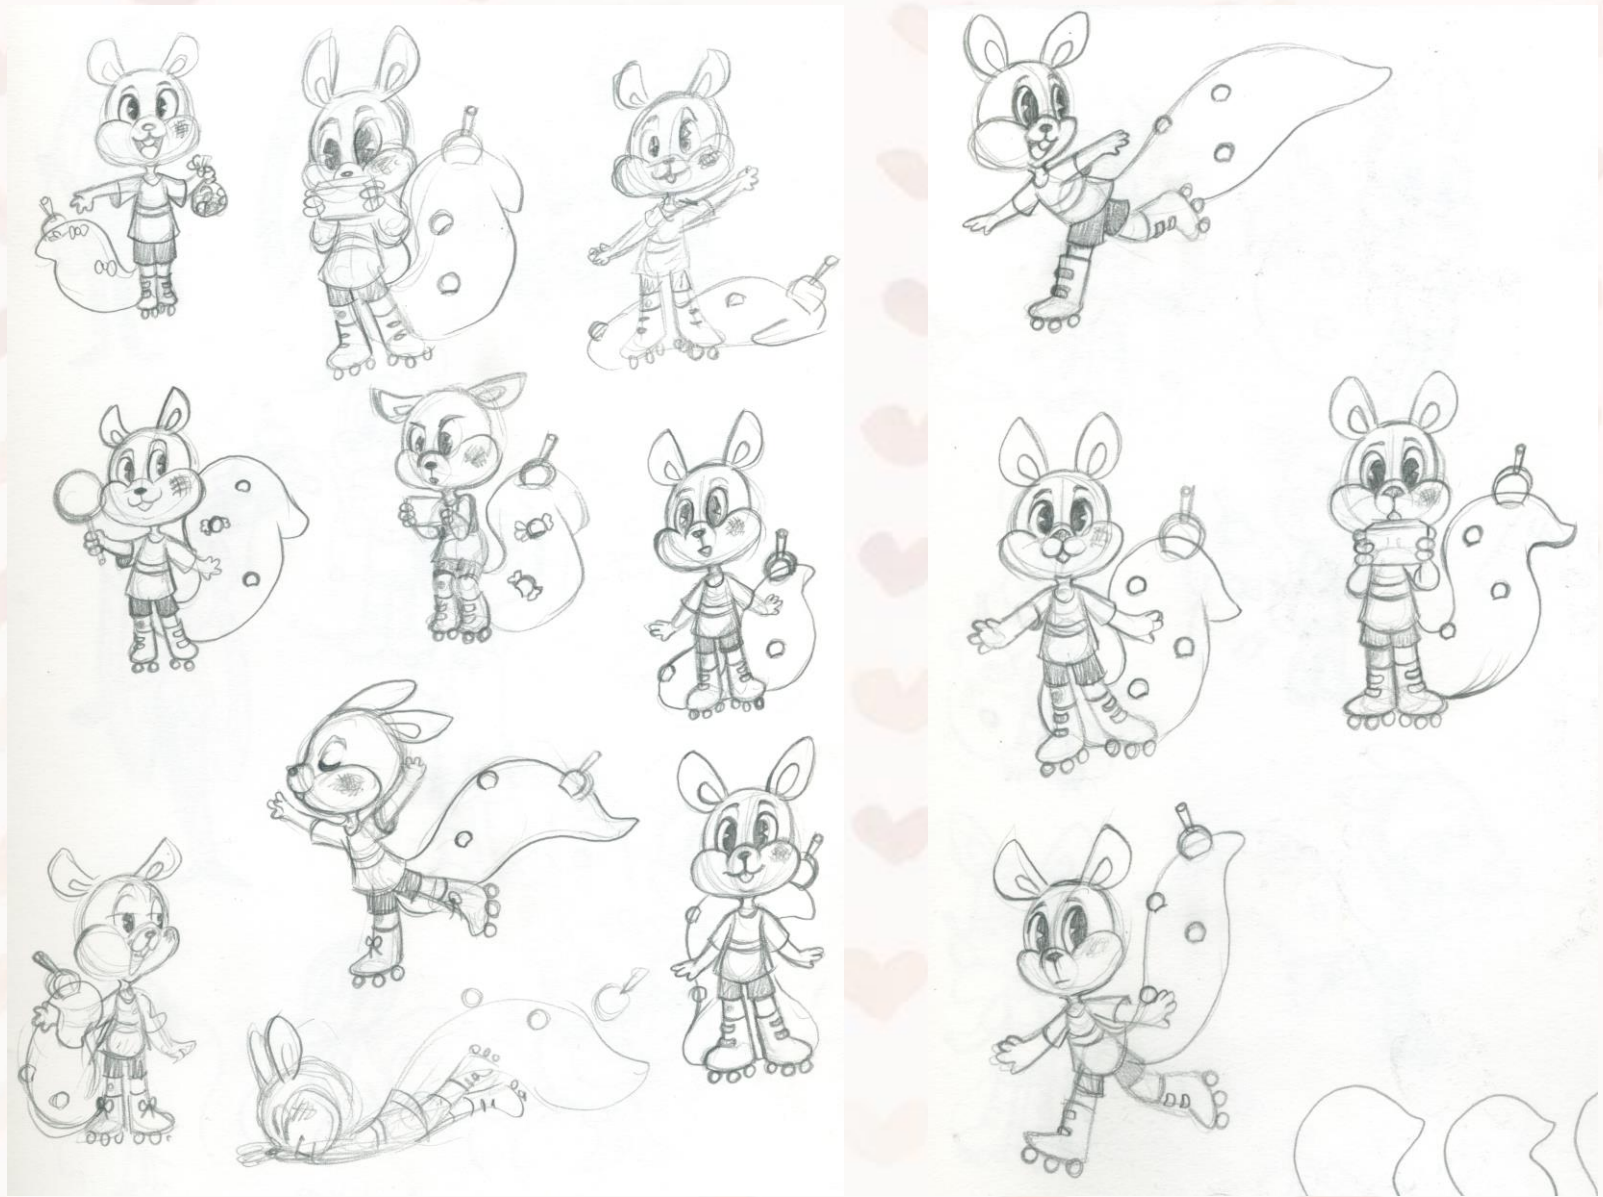

Squirrel Girl Concept art

I thought a squirrel would be a good fit for the child character since they're small and hyperactive. I wanted her to be very annoying.

Creepy Neighbour

Age: 32

Gender: Male

Job: Acolyte of the King in Yellow

The creepy neighbour was uplifted from his soulless existence as a sheep when he stumbled upon the cursed play, 'The King in Yellow'.

Who left it in his field and why?

He may never know, depending on Parsnips actions.

Creepy Neighbour Concept art

Originally the Creepy Neighbours appearance was never revealed, but Mez insisted on a sheep character. Since there were already sheep in the game we thought it would be funny for one of them to have turned evil. - Poppy

Fun Factz

- 1- Parsnip originally owned a trumpet which he would loudly play, much to the annoyance of LeRose.
- 2- The wheat field was originally accessible, but once the game was reprogrammed from scratch it was left out as the wheat field joke was over half a year old by this point.
- 3- Parsnip has inherited millions from his aunt, he does not seem to realise this, however.
- 4- Squirrel Girl was originally a boy, but we made her a girl after the first female Doctor was announced.
- 5- Parsnip was meant to be a two month project, sadly it took twelve.
