VERSE 4:

What calls in the dark? What obscure mysteries
Wrack our minds with the promise of secrets long lost?
Dare we quest for the truth? Can we handle the cost?
Pray we'll have fair winds and following seas.

VERSE 5:

Dreams of bubbling pots, some stale bread or hard cheese
Do plague our dear captain, who'd eat his own thumbs.
We've eaten our lot, and we're near down to crumbs.
Pray we'll have fair winds and following seas.

VERSE 6:

We pull and we groan and we heave and we wheeze
When the ocean won't listen to man or to gods
We make our way home despite all the odds
Pray we'll have fair winds and following seas.

VERSE 1:

Now we set out, for the captain to please,
One with the sea and the ship and our mates,
Our pockets are empty but full are our plates.
Pray we'll have fair winds and following seas.

VERSE 2:

A dark cloud beneath, I feel my chest seize
What monster or demon has picked up our tail?
What breaches the surface! 'Tis only a whale!
Pray we'll have fair winds and following seas.

VERSE 3:

One day we'll return, on a homebound breeze
The wind brings us out on the ocean so wide
We bring ourselves back with our coin and our pride.
Pray we'll have fair winds and following seas.
