INSTRUCTION CARDS

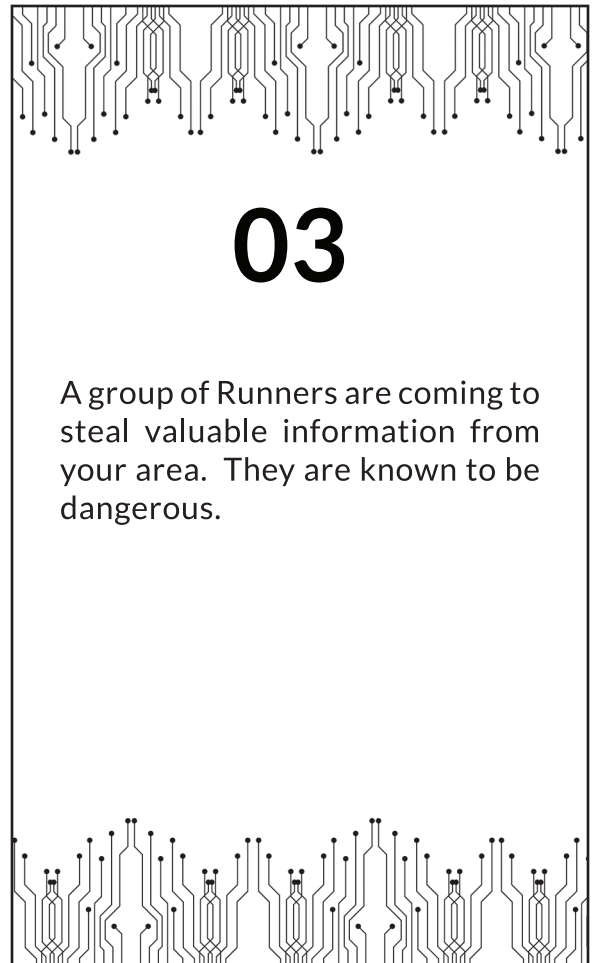

01

Start by passing these Instruction Cards around and taking turns reading them.

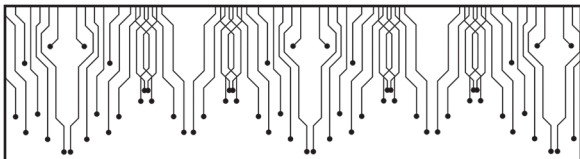

02

You have worked at The Corp for a long time. You, and the colleagues around you, now work in a sensitive area and are the only ones there.

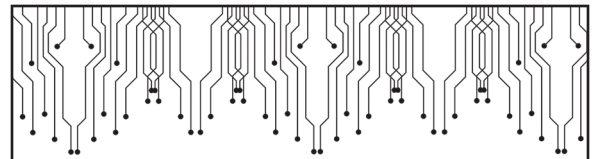

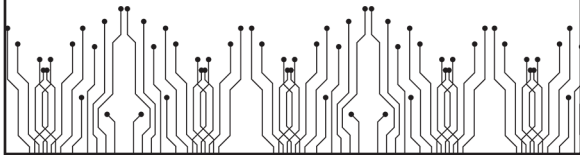

03

A group of Runners are coming to steal valuable information from your area. They are known to be dangerous.

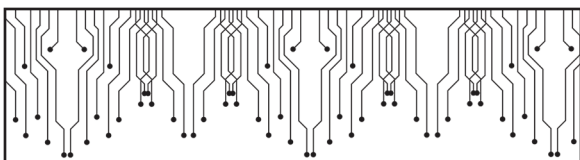

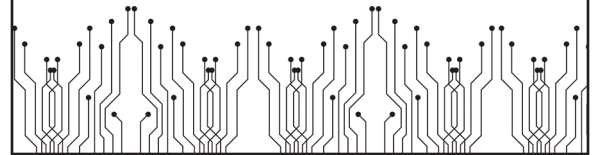

04

You are supposed to protect this information. The Corp trusts you and your colleagues to keep it safe.

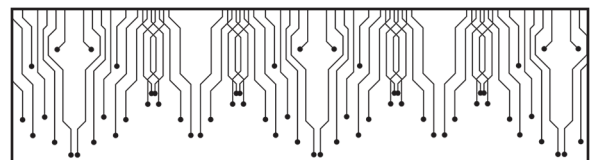

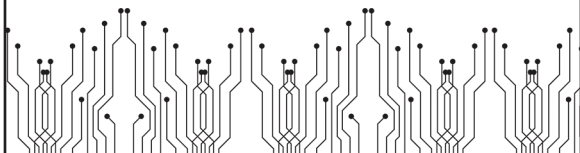

05

You have heard that The Corp has a bad reputation, but you have also built a life working here.

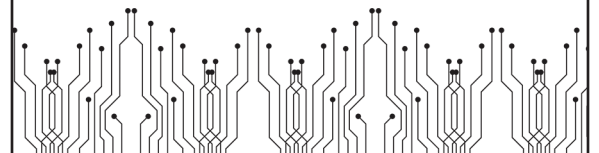

06

Take the “The Corp Is Under Attack” card and set it aside.

07

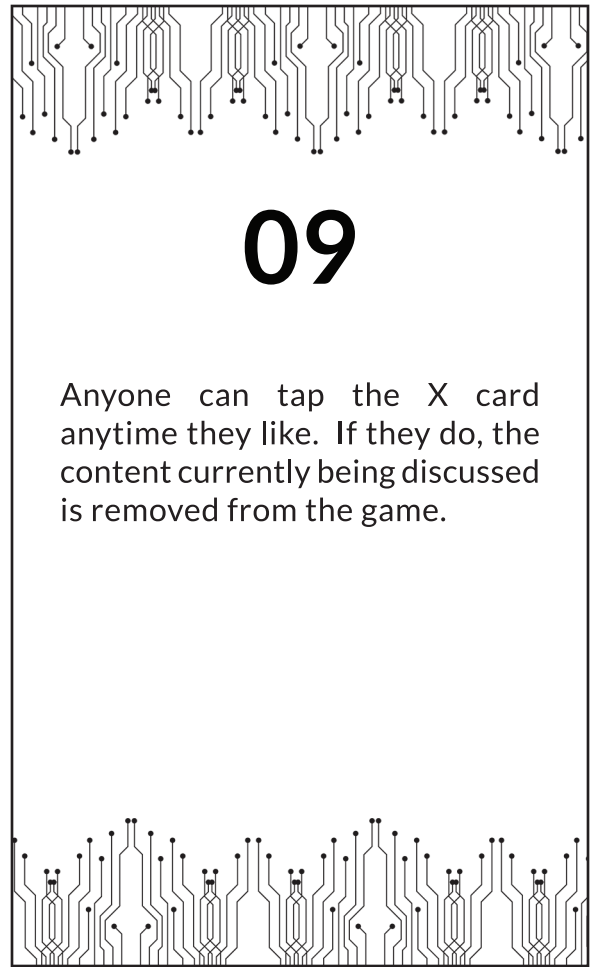

Shuffle all of the prompt cards and put the “The Corp Is Under Attack” card in the middle of the deck if you want a medium length game, at the bottom if you want a longer game.

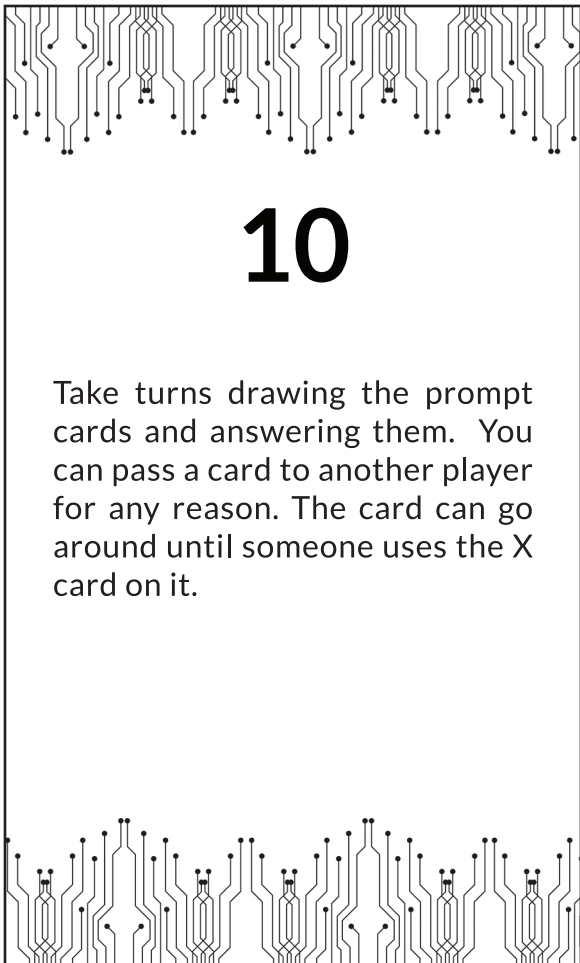

08

Place the X card in a place where everyone can reach it.

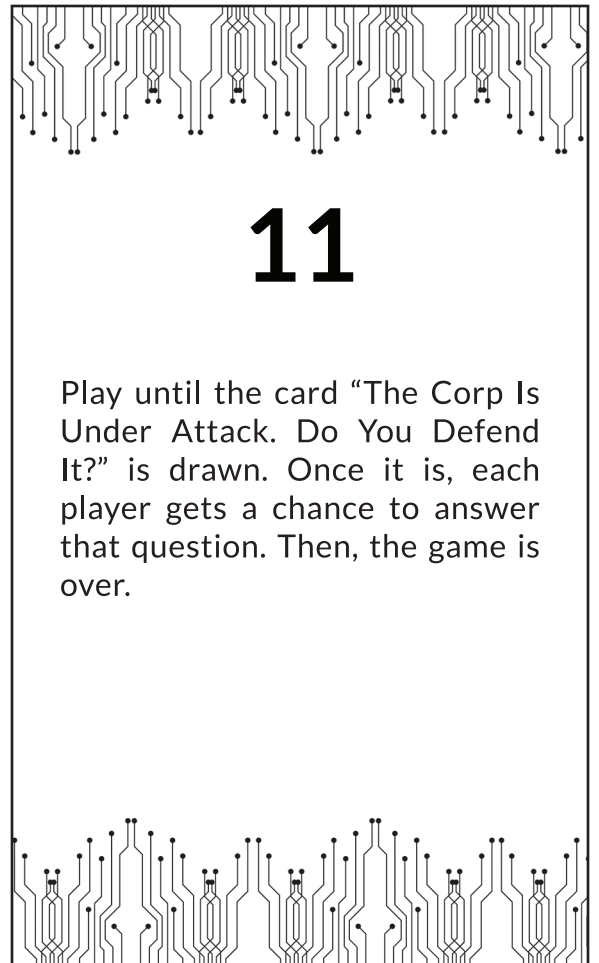

09

Anyone can tap the X card anytime they like. If they do, the content currently being discussed is removed from the game.

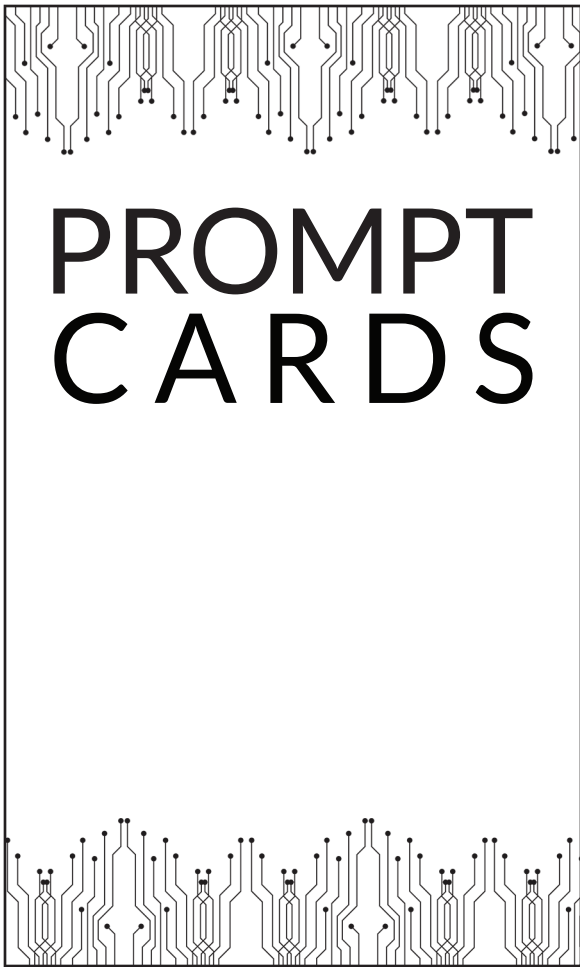

10

Take turns drawing the prompt cards and answering them. You can pass a card to another player for any reason. The card can go around until someone uses the X card on it.

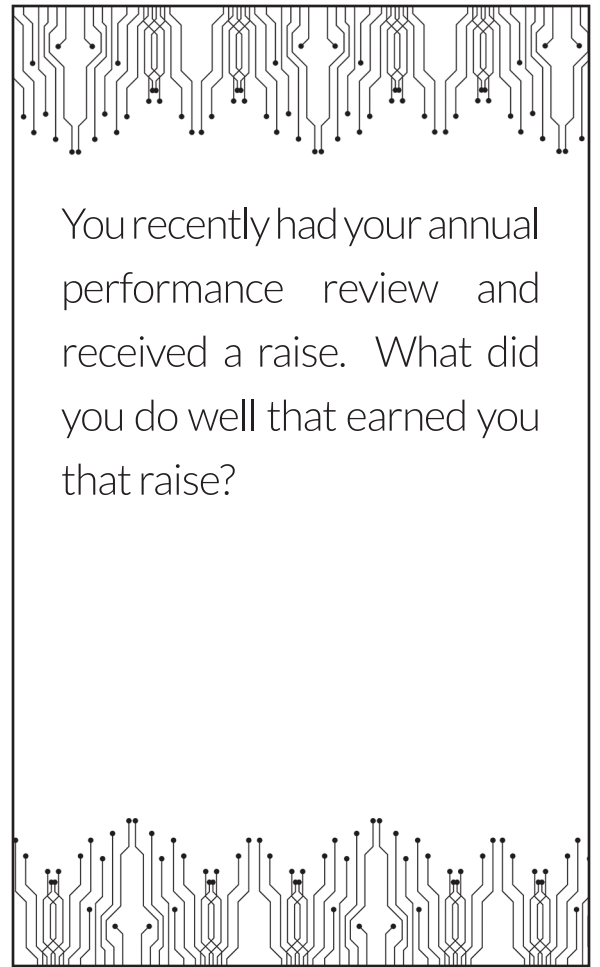

11

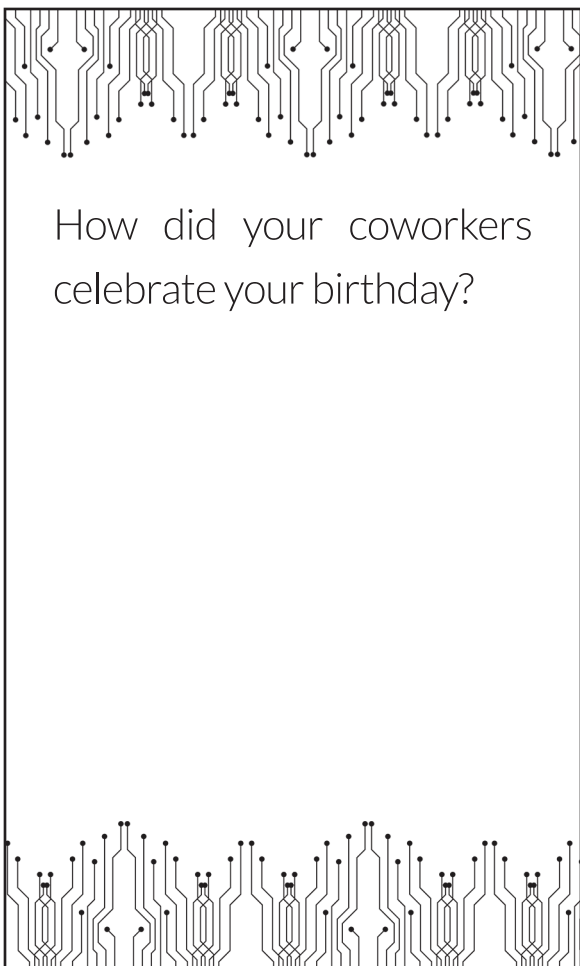

Play until the card "The Corp Is Under Attack. Do You Defend It?" is drawn. Once it is, each player gets a chance to answer that question. Then, the game is over.

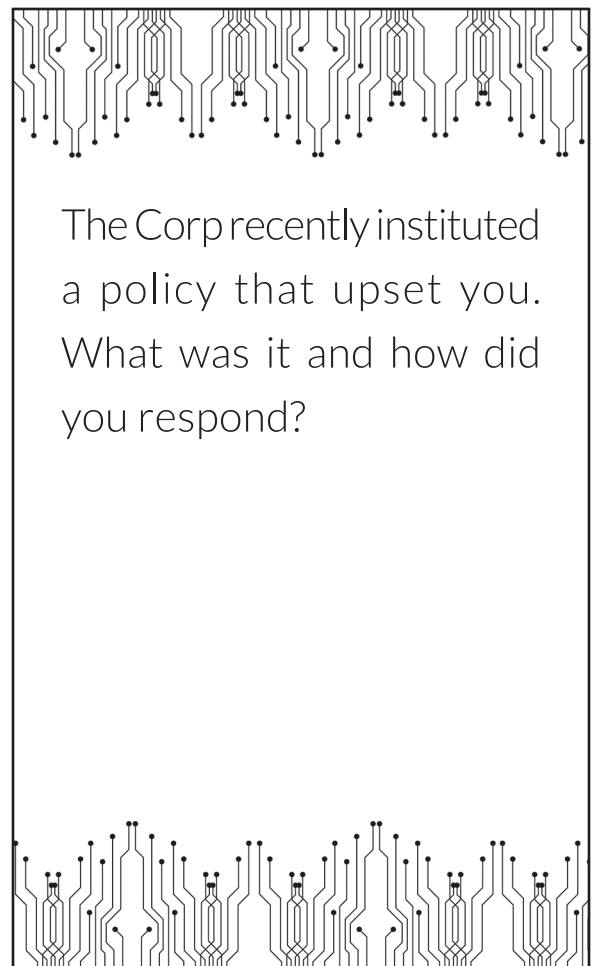

PROMPT CARDS

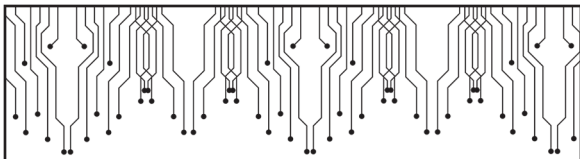

You recently had your annual performance review and received a raise. What did you do well that earned you that raise?

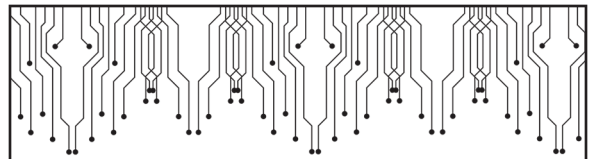

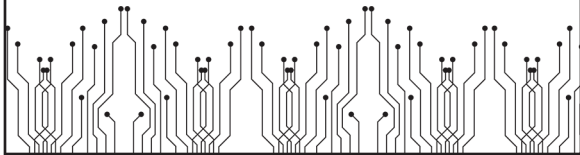

How did your coworkers celebrate your birthday?

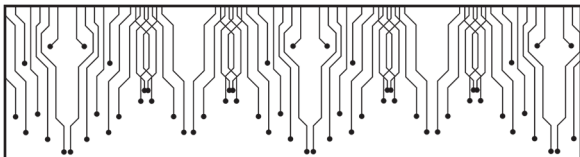

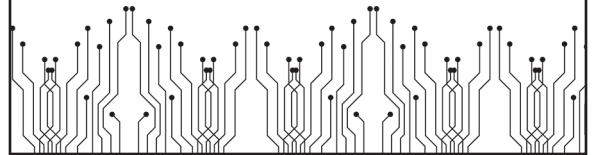

The Corp recently instituted a policy that upset you. What was it and how did you respond?

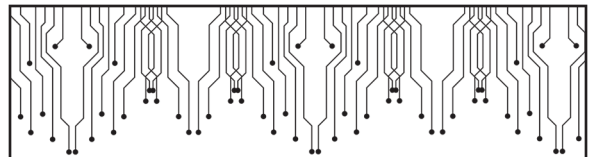

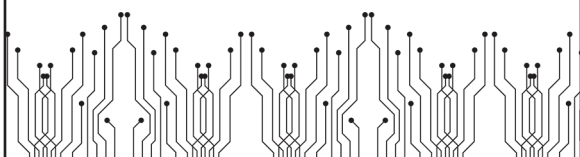

You earned enough paid time off to take a big vacation last year. Where did you go?

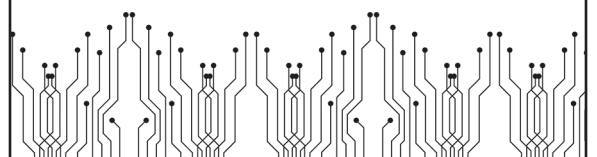

What song does your coworker sing to pass the time?

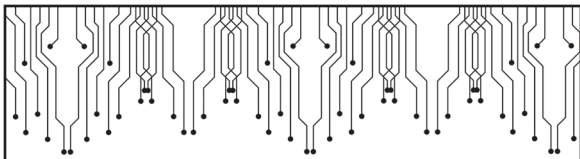

There is a new project on the horizon that you're excited about. What is it?

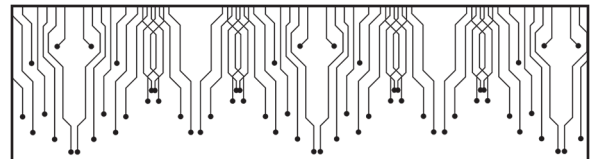

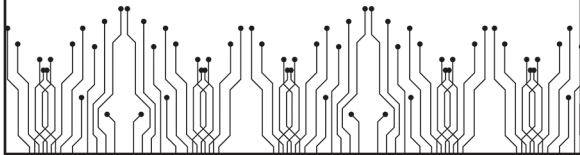

What innovation have you been working on that you are the most passionate about?

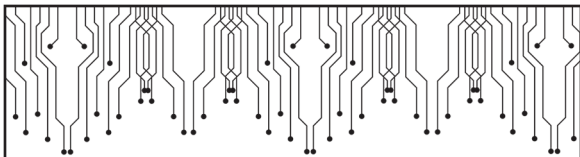

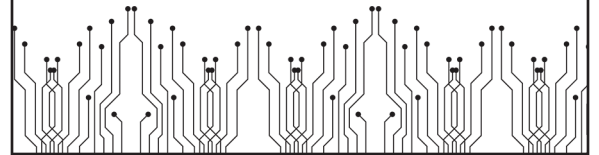

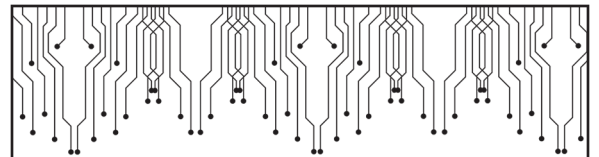

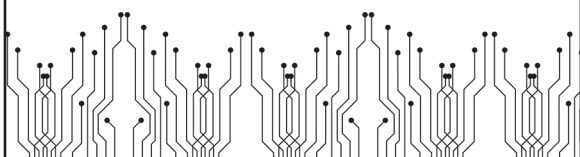

You and the receptionist have small talk every morning. What were you talking about today?

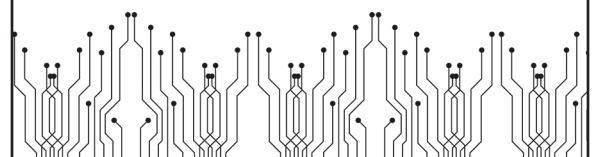

You like this job more than your last one. Why is that?

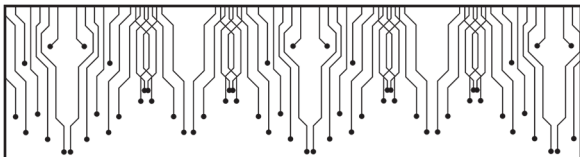

Your boss is a jerk. What is something they did recently?

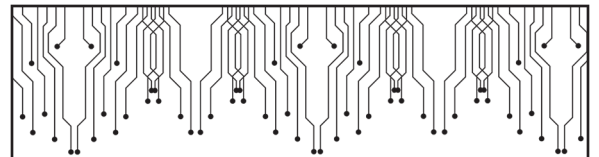

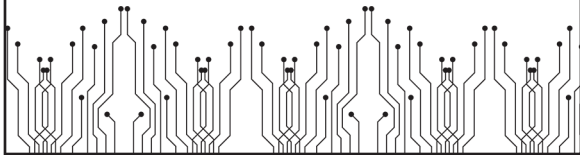

To get hired, you lied on one of the many forms you were asked to fill. What was the lie, and what will happen if you're discovered?

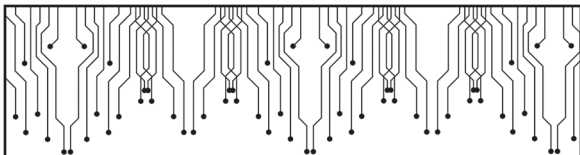

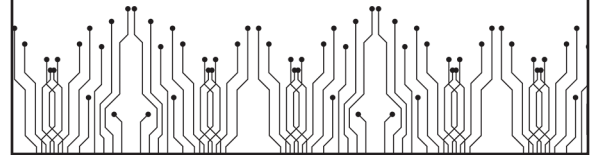

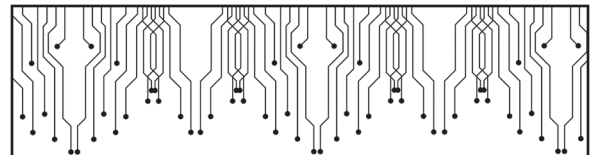

A middle manager took credit for a project that you completed. How have you planned to take revenge on them?

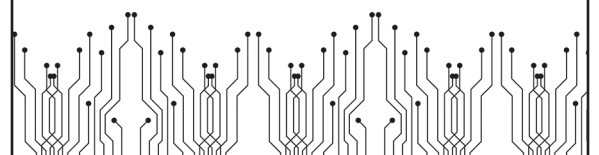

What dish do they serve in the campus cafeteria that you enjoy?

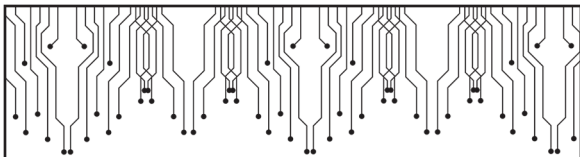

What were people talking about at the water cooler last week?

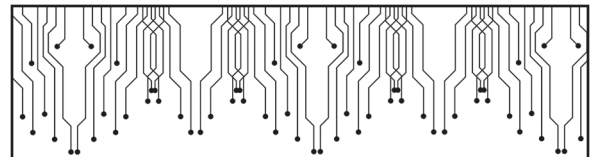

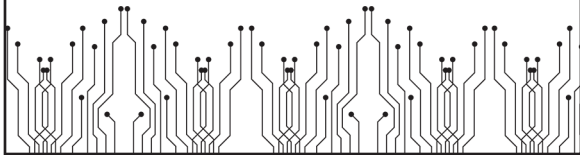

There is a rumor about The Corp you heard from your friend. What is the rumor and do you believe it?

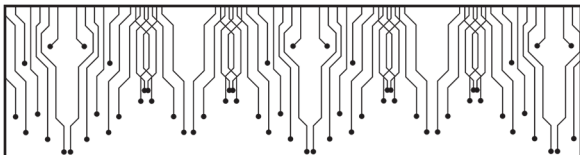

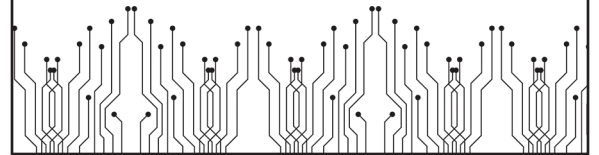

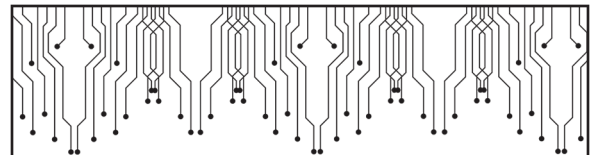

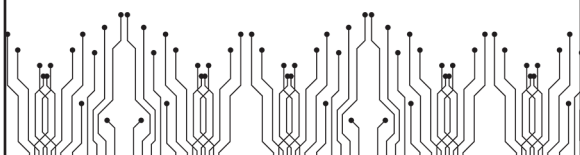

What task at your job do you find to be soul-crushing?
What do you do after work to recover from performing it?

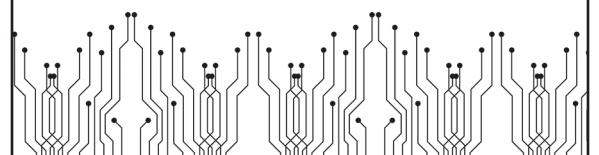

What is The Corp's mission statement?

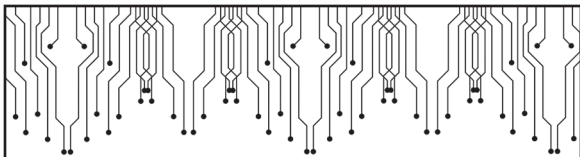

What are The Corp's core values? Which one do you identify with? Which do you think is a lie?

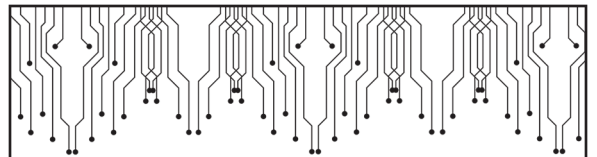

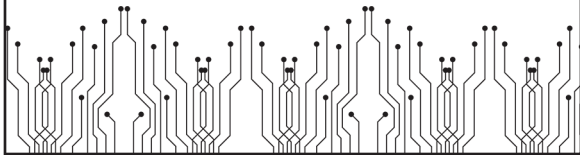

You were promised a promotion if you successfully completed a task. What was it? Will they honor the promise?

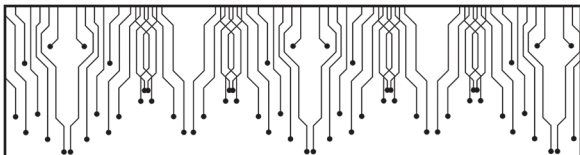

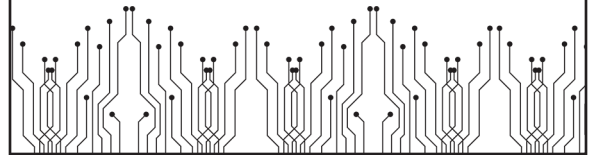

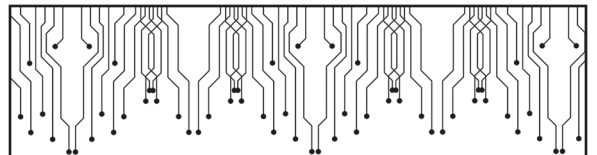

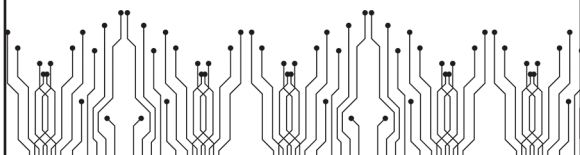

You meet up with some of your coworkers after work once every other week. Where do you go and what do you do?

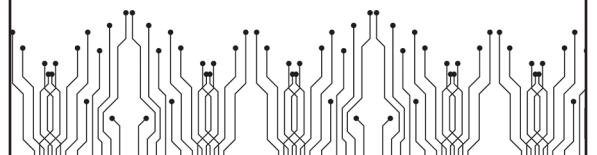

You've been trying to meet the metrics to earn a bonus this quarter. What are you saving up for?

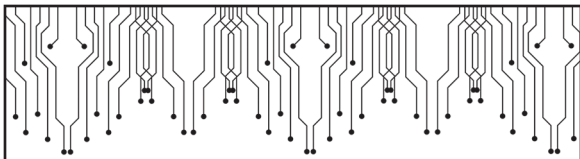

How did you get your job at The Corp?

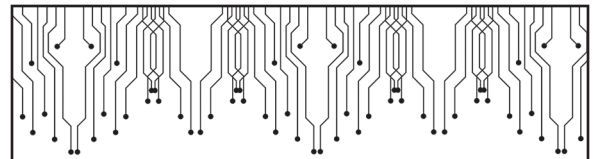

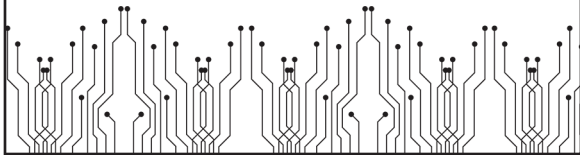

How do you plan to sabotage The Corp?

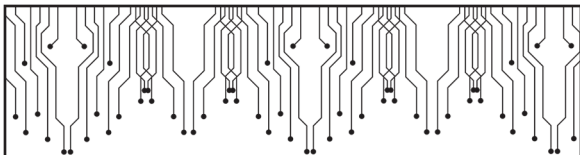

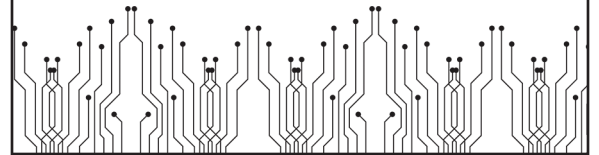

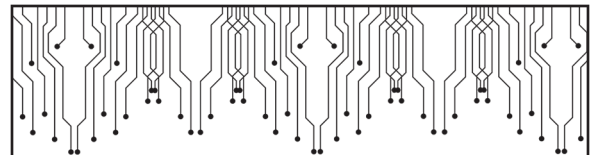

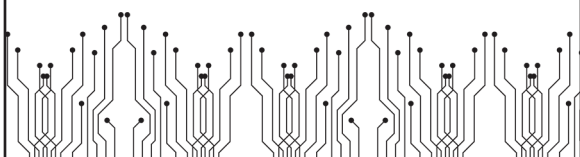

You had to perform a task that you did not agree with at The Corp. What was it?

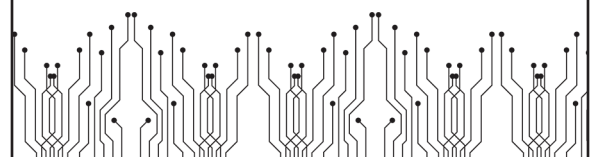

You have been approached by a group of Runners. What was their offer?

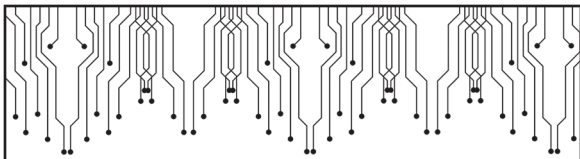

You had a friend that worked at The Corp and was killed the last time Runners attacked. What was your friend's name?

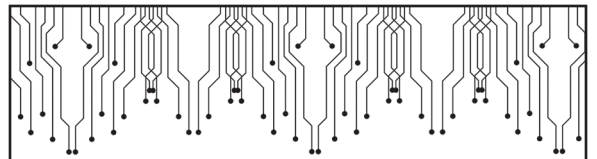

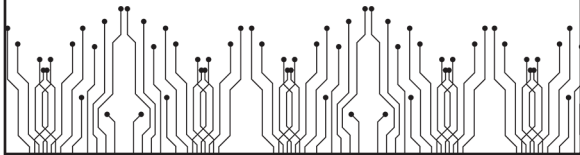

You know when the Runners plan to attack. How do you know this?

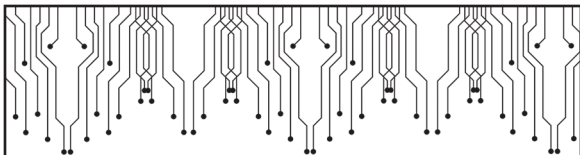

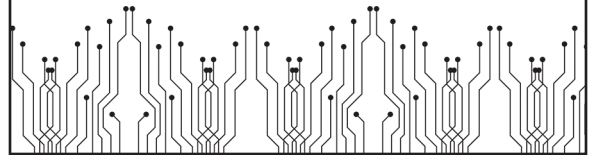

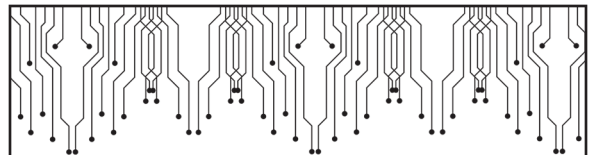

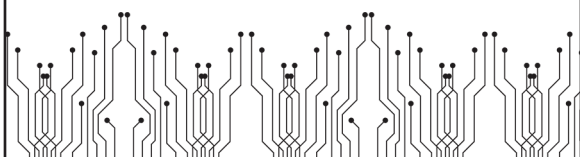

You are in love with one of your colleagues. Who is it, and why haven't you told them yet?

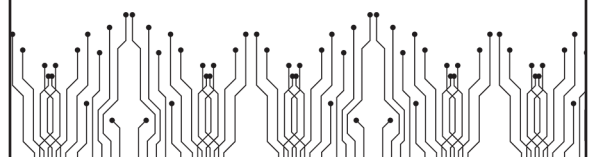

You walk by one of the ads for The Corp to and from work everyday. How does it make you feel when you see it?

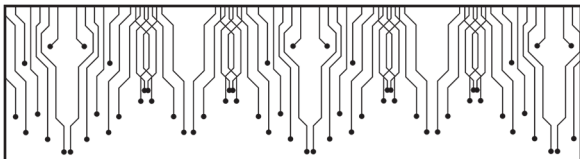

You tried to quit recently. Why couldn't you?

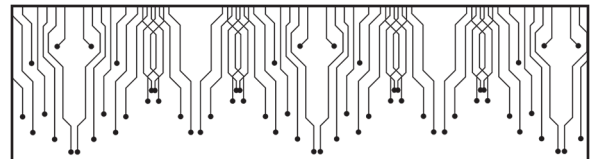

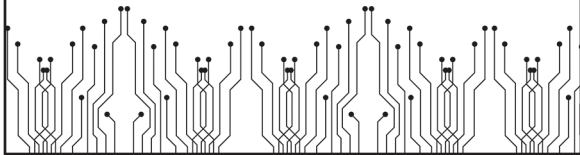

Which floor do you work on and why did The Corp assign you there?

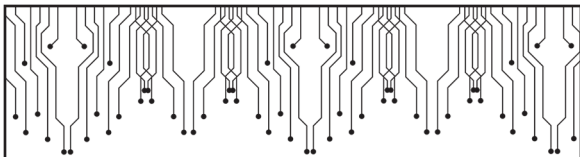

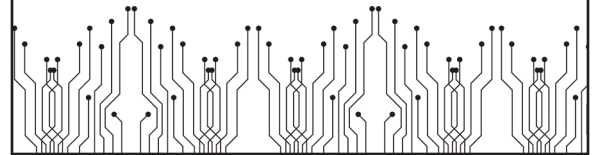

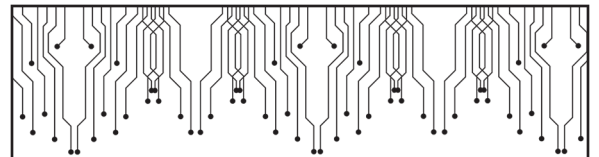

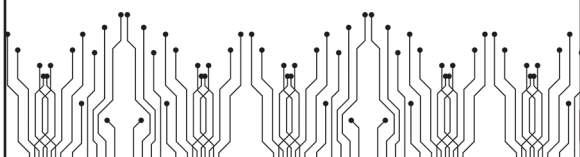

You were written up for something recently. What was it?

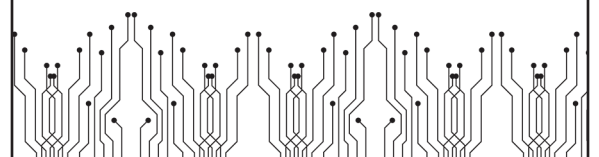

The Corp was just awarded a big contract, thanks to you. What did you do to help that you're not proud of?

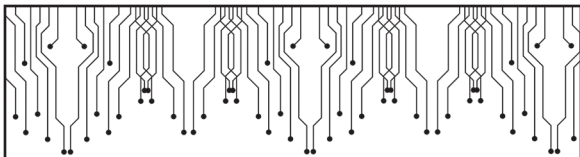

The person in the cube next to you is always friendly and brings you gifts. Why haven't you bothered to learn their name?

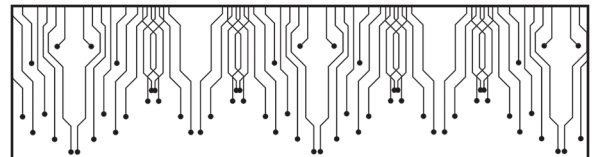

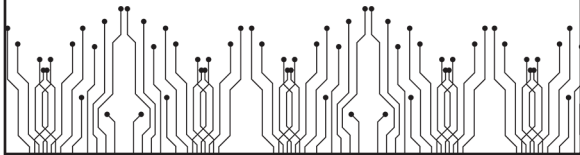

What did you want to be when you grew up?

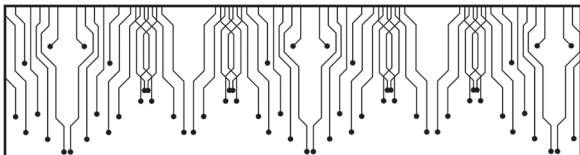

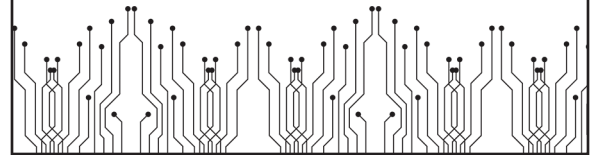

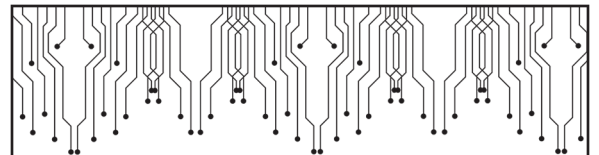

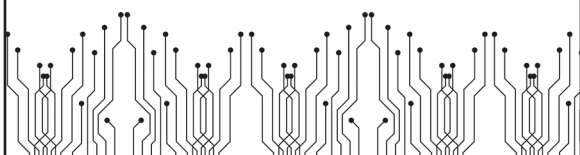

How many minutes of personal time do you get in a day during work hours? Why is it never enough?

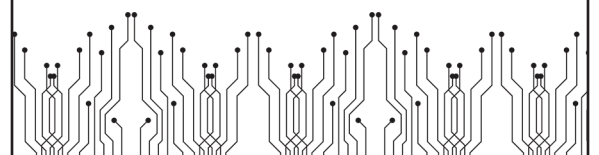

When was the last time your boss told you that you were doing a good job?

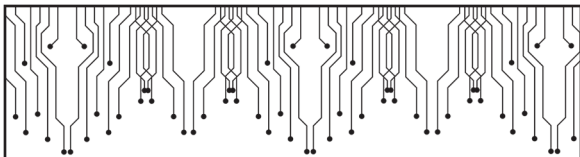

You've been nursing a work-related injury that you are afraid to report. What is it?

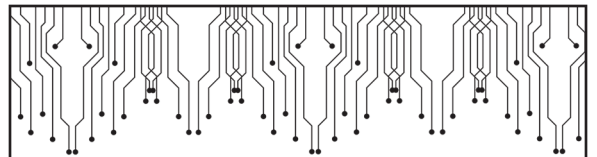

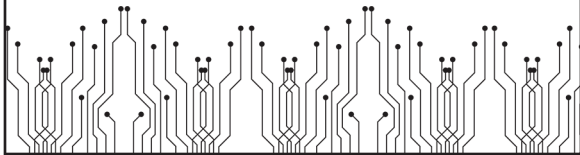

What does The Corp publicly sell? What are they selling covertly?

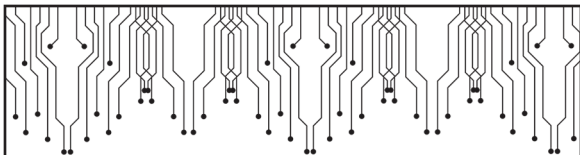

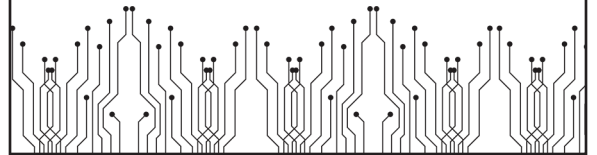

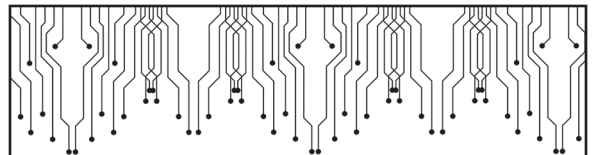

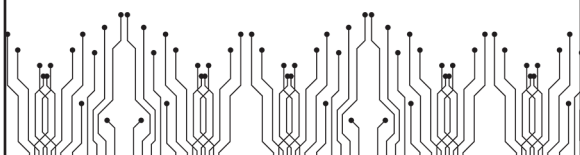

What piece of technology inspired you to want to work for The Corp?

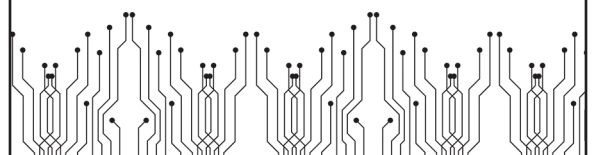

Someone close to you is a Runner. Who is it, and what kind of information have you learned from them?

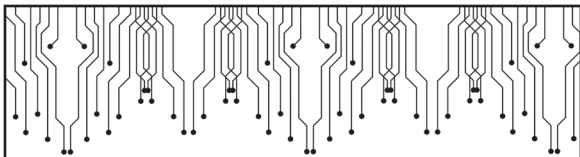

You have an opportunity to encode a subtle message in the newest product without The Corp noticing. What does it say, and who are you trying to reach?

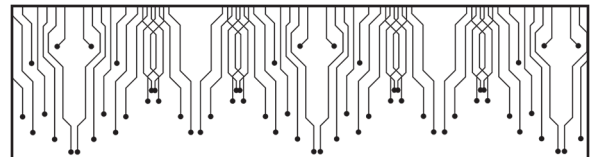

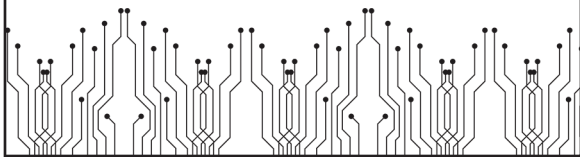

When did you realize you knew information that the Runners have desperately been searching for? Who have you confided in?

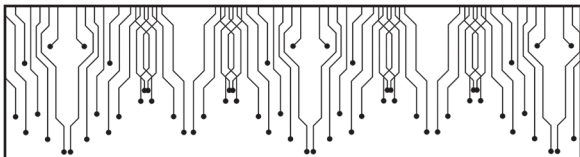

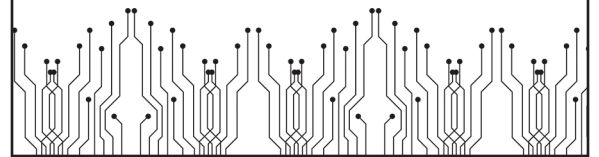

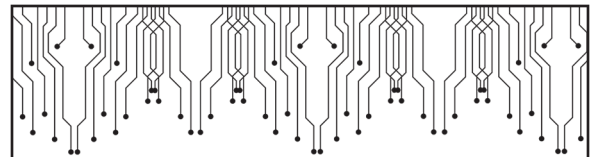

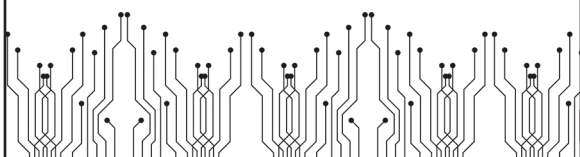

The Corp provides coverage for dozens of bodily Upgrades or Upgrade apparel. Which upgrades do you choose for yourself, if any?

What's on the top floor of The Corp building, and do you know about it? If so, who else knows?

There was a peaceful protest held outside of your work recently. How did you react in the moment, and how do you feel about it now?

You had a loved one that was very sick. You had to take time off. How did The Corp handle that?
