The backstory for One-Eyed Lee and prologue to a hopefully episodic line of visual novels.

Lee

Age: 19

A young man with only one dream; to escape beyond his family's wheatfield.

I've had Lee's design and backstory sitting around for a while now and I have always wanted to preserve his backstory in some way-- so I made a VN!

It was fun getting to draw Lee so expressive since later on he's not at all (because of the demon hand and everything) and it will be an interesting challenge to get him to be emotive in the future games.

Mari

Age: 16

Despite everything, Mari tries to keep positive about her family troubles. Somehow, it feels like she has many hardships...

Jesse

Age: 25

A jerk who thinks responsibility and tradition are everything. Their stubborn attitude helps them get better deals at market, but not much else...

Father (Conrad)

Age: 48

Isn't aware just how close he is to not only losing Lee, but also Mari. He'd have a much easier time in life if he let himself laugh more...

Mother (Sophia)

Age: 50

A quiet person who has long since given up her own dreams. She's never truly shared her story with any of her children.

Darkness

Age: ???

A being of greed who lives in the family's wheatfield. It's been silently feeding on Lee's desires ever since he was young, but has only recently become strong enough to be seen.

All the backgrounds for this game were really fun. Wheat is really fun to draw and is such strong imagery! All the organic shapes in this game were really relaxing to render...

Thank you so much for your generous support and thank you so much for playing! This game was very cathartic to write, and so, I hope it was cathartic to read as well!

What kind of adventures wait Lee in future games? Wait and see to find out!
