

Getting Started

1

Choose your Goblin Type

2

Choose your Special Item

3

Choose the Scenario

4

Become your character. Think about your character's goals, motivations, quirks, and limitations. Start trying to think like them.

5

Introduce yourself as your character to the group. At minimum, tell everyone your character's name, what you look like, one fun thing about you, and your defining quality.

6

After introductions, decide how you want to begin your story. You may use the provided examples or begin however you want.

7

With your characters and initial scene established, start storytelling!

Reminders

- 1 Consider what challenges you will encounter during this scenario.
- 2 Decide what actions you will take to face the challenges.
- 3 Role-play as your character, not as yourself.
- 4 Use your Goblin Type and/or Special Item to help you be more successful.
- 5 Remember that Hanukkah occurs over 8 nights. Consider what happens over all the nights.
- 6 Every game should have at least one Ritual. You are welcome to do as many as you want.
- 7 Create Non-Playing Characters (NPCs).
- 8 When you need help deciding what happens in a situation, refer to the “Resolving Actions” section.
