

SERRE
The Artbook

concept
art_lady

I got her design
right away because I'm really good.

concept art_alien1

I didn't get her
design right away
because I'm really
bad.

concept art_alien2

Finally, I figure it out.
I liked her a lot in that left doodle but
she seemed Too
Cute Not Enough
Sexy, so I ended up
giving her a thinner
face!

concept art_alien3

Thinner face Oaxa is finally here, on the right! Also I doodled her with Arlette for the first time to figure out how Big she'd be (more than she should be, less than I hoped)

possible blackmail

I needed inspiration for a “lesbian looking alien” (or “alien looking lesbian”), so I asked some friends to tell me who they thought was the hottest p*k*m*ns. Here are some good answers

color_lady

I tried some different colors for Arlette. I liked the 3rd one a lot but the 2nd one fit better with what I wanted Arlette to be like. Sorry, 3rd Arlette.

color_alien

Some different colors for Oaxa!
Colors mattered less than its placement on this one, since I knew from the start I wanted her to have bee colors

OΔXΔ

ARLETTE

concept art_both

Final design for both! Thank god I doodled the back of Arlette's hair because otherwise I would've fried my brain each time I had to draw it

ending1

Oaxa after the time-skip! I wanted her to have some of Arlette's muted colors and Arlette to gain some of Oaxa's bright, saturated colors. But Oaxa couldn't really change colors much so: CLOTHES TIME

ending2

Arlette after the time-skip! Her having short hair was Very Important. Also I wanted her to have a translator pendant too but I forgot. Maybe it's in the game now. If I wasn't too lazy to draw it

bg_ch1

Concept art for the 1st background! This was done REAL FAST to just figure out the colors. And to figure out how to add bgs to Ren'py

bg_ch2

Concept art for the 2nd background!
“it’s the same as the 1st background but
with different
colors”
ssshhhshhhhhhssh

bg_ch3

Concept art for the 3rd background! I wanted the view to look high up so we could see the city, but then wondered about what kind of goshdang greenhouse would be floating in the middle of a goshdang city. So now it's at ground level

bg_ch1

This was the first background I drew, and pretty much the “woah... I can draw plants if I try” epiphany. But then I only drew plants for the 3 backgrounds and not for any of the other illustrations

bg_ch2

This background looked real nice and then I had to draw Oaxa's big ugly ship. Oh well

bg_ch3

Pink and blue... good stuff.

Anyways can't remember if this happens at sunrise or sundown. I didn't worry about the timeline I just drew what looked nice Also this story takes place in France did I mention that. I should've drawn the tiniest Eiffel Tower in the distance

flower_hell

on the bright side I know how to draw
roses now

serre_menu

My first idea for the menu illustration! I wanted the first image to be of Arlette on a greenhouse planet, so the audience would think she wasn't on Earth and it'd be a big reveal at the end. But then I realized people would assume she was on Earth anyways by going thru the story, so I scrapped that idea.

alien (mean alien?) (no shes nice) crash lands into a serre where a rich girl takes care of plants.

alien believes the serre is the entirety of the planet, and for the girl, in a way, it is.

girl is staying in the serre to escape something. (death of parents? mean parents? responsibility? maybe family is really mean so she has nothing to go back to)

girl teaches alien about the "world".

a lil moment where the girl teaches alien about the plants, how they keep her alive (oxygen+a way to escape her life), maybe add something about how the plants need her too (in a good or bad way, scared because she needs to keep them alive to cope or controlling because theyll die without her)

a lil moment where its CHARGED and THEYRE GONNA KISS???? GIRL IS LIKE (this is it) but the alien just. nuzzles her. and she laughs because thats not what was planned wyd!!! alien smiles "ah, finally!" girl is ? and the alien is smiling real wide and goes "you laughed!" and girl is like :^0 :^| shit why did u remind me maybe before human is like "only the plants want me around and its because i keep them alive!" and alien is like "i want you around! you teach me things and i see the way you look at the plants and you love them and youre good youre good youre so good" and human is like "doki..." and human is like "shes awfully close" and then PSYCHE alien realizes the world is bigger at some point alien is doing their first attack on a planet. very ignorant. keeps telling human their plans. human is like "this alien is gonna get eaten alive by mean, mean humans. ill tell them the serre is our planet" or maybe alien is like "i was afraid this was gonna be tough work. but your planet seems very small!" human is ??? "yeah! planets are usually. so big you cant see the end. but i can see the end here and here! are you the only one on this planet?" and human gets it and goes "...yes" (pic of her in her planet serre)

they use the alien's translator to talk. alien talks with symbols. when theres an earth word they dont know they try to speak it with their symbols. a moment where the translator stalls because "how the heck do i translate this". maybe alien has some emotions humans dont know, and vice versa. do dogs get so sad they can die

cut in time a bit. first scene alien is already here and just landed, next scene theyre having tea. dont need to

story idea1

My very first draft! I first had the idea of "an alien falling in a greenhouse and believing it's the whole world, human girl wants to believe the greenhouse is her whole world to escape from something". The draft has some ideas I had but didn't implement in the game itself!

find transitions all the time. maybe each transition is a different flower/plant with a different meaning

if human family is mean and she has nothing to go back to then the human and the alien just go to space together, the spaceship full of plants.

maybe one emotional scene between kiss scene and end scene. its the scene where alien gets that they were sent here to die maybe maybe alien doesnt realize her family sent her off to die. just one alien against an entire planet. they bond over the fact that they're "unwanted"

maybe the alien knew all along. but is in denial. wanted to believe her family loved them, that they could show them she was strong and could defeat a planet alone.

alien looks VERY SCARY but has cute cat mannerisms. or dog mannerisms. stop the feminine cat trend. anyways ask on private twitter what their fav alien lesbians look like

make reader believe she really lives on a small planet human says the planet is called "serre". in her language it means "serre" and also "hold tightly"

alien crash, alien looks scary
they have tea, alien says shes the only one here to subjugate the planet, which is very small btw, human goes (shes gonna get killed) and says her planet is called serre alien has been here a little, human talks about her plants fakeout kiss

alien was sent here to die
end

Right after fake out aliens phone rings. They both freeze and look at it. Alien runs to it, she looks so scared. Alien picks up. Huma watches from afar. Alien gets annoyed by translator and flings it across the room, human doesnt understand but the convo is heated. Sounds like alien did something wrong. Alien screams something at who's on the phone but they hung up. She breathes shakily. "Alien...?" Alien runs to the plant wall, shoves it aside. Beyond the glass wall, there's a world. Reaction shot. Alien slowly moves to the translator, picks it up. "Whats... the name of this planet?" Human is serious but not guilty. "Earth." Alien looks shaken. "And how many... people live on "earth"?" Human looks at alien "6 billion humans." Alien looks about to throw up. "Alien. Why were you sent here alone?" Alien laughs. "Looks like the queen didnt think of survive this mission. In fact, it may be what she wanted all along."

story idea2

I used the french word "serre" instead of "greenhouse" multiple times because I was too lazy to google what the english word for "serre" was.

ch0cutscene_2

A deleted illustration for the prologue- it was supposed to go just before Oaxa's big entrance but it just looked confusing. It also wins the "only deleted illustration" award.
